GENERAL INFORMATION. Mercer Law Review is edited and published by students of the Walter F. George School of Law of Mercer University. Mercer Law Review was founded in 1949. It is the oldest continually published law review in Georgia.

ISSUES. Mercer Law Review (ISSN 0025-987X) is published four times a year: Annual Survey of Georgia Law (Fall), Articles (Winter), Lead Articles (Spring), and Annual Eleventh Circuit Survey (Summer). The issues appear, respectively, in January, March, May, and July. Copies are available at $15.00 for survey volumes and $15.00 for Leads and Articles volumes.

INDICES. Each issue of the Mercer Law Review contains a table of cases. A full index of each volume (all four issues) is published in the Annual Eleventh Circuit Survey. A cumulative index for volumes I through LVI has been published. Copies are available at a cost of $30.00 each.

SUBSCRIPTIONS. Annual subscriptions are available to all four issues ($40.00), to the Annual Survey of Georgia Law ($15.00), to the Annual Eleventh Circuit Survey ($15.00), and to both Survey issues ($30.00). Subscriptions are payable in advance and are renewed automatically unless notice to the contrary is received by August 1st. Single copies of the Lead and Articles issues are available at $15.00 each. Subscriptions to only the Lead and Articles issues are not available. Single copies of the Survey issues are available at $15.00 each; orders must be clearly marked "Single Copy." Georgia residents should add the appropriate state, local, and special district taxes. All domestic subscriptions are sent via periodicals mail. Foreign subscriptions are sent via surface mail.

CARL VINSON MEMORIAL LECTURE. The annual Carl Vinson Memorial Lecture Series was created in 1982 in honor and memory of the Honorable Carl Vinson, a distinguished alumnus of the Mercer Law School who served his country for fifty years as a member of Congress. The purpose of the Lecture Series is to provide lectures of the very highest quality on legal and law-related subjects for the students and faculty of the law school, alumni and friends of the School of Law and Mercer University, and the general public. The Vinson Lectures are periodically published in Mercer Law Review.

MERCER LAW REVIEW ASSOCIATION. All alumni of Mercer Law Review are members of the Mercer Law Review Association. Friends of Mercer Law Review may become adjunct members of the Mercer Law Review Association by application.

DISCLAIMER OF OPINION. Opinions expressed in any part of MERCER LAW REVIEW are those of the individual contributors and are not presented as the views of Mercer Law Review, the Walter F. George School of Law, or Mercer University.

WALTER F. GEORGE SCHOOL OF LAW

MERCER UNIVERSITY

GENERAL INFORMATION. The Walter F. George School of Law, founded in 1873, is a small school with an extremely diverse curriculum and an excellent student-faculty ratio. It is housed in one of the most beautiful, spacious, and well-equipped law school buildings in the country and is located in the historic district of Macon, Georgia. Entering classes contain approximately 150 students, drawn from numerous states and undergraduate institutions. Women comprise about half of the student body.

DEGREES AWARDED. The study of law at the Walter F. George School of Law consists of a three-year program directed toward the J.D. degree. A joint J.D.-M.B.A. program is offered in conjunction with the School of Business and Economics. In addition, the law school offers a Business Certificate Program. Please see our website for more details at www.law.mercer.edu.

ADMISSIONS. Persons interested in applying for admission to the Walter F. George School of Law are encouraged to contact the Admissions Office. Although the Admissions Committee gives initial consideration to the applicant's cumulative undergraduate grade point average and LSAT score, numerous other factors also are considered. These factors are detailed in the school's academic bulletin, which may be obtained from the Admissions Office. Address correspondence to: Admissions Office, Walter F. George School of Law, 1021 Georgia Avenue, Macon, Georgia 31207. Telephone (478) 301-2605; toll-free within Georgia (800) 342-0841, or outside Georgia (800) 637-2378. Please ask the operator for extension 2605 when dialing either toll-free number. You may also access admission information through our website at www.law.mercer.edu.

LAW LIBRARY. The Furman Smith Law Library has a staff of sixteen, including seven professional librarians. The librarians provide extensive instruction in both print and electronic research as part of the curriculum. The library's collection includes over 350,000 volumes in books and microforms, and a growing number of electronic subscriptions including LexisNexis, Westlaw, and BNA. Throughout the library and law school, students have wireless access to the law school network via their personal laptops. The law library, "smart" study rooms and computer labs are accessible to law students and faculty 24 hours a day. For more information about the library, visit <http://www.law.mercer.edu/library>.
