LAW and JUSTICE

IN SOVIET RUSSIA—

the "law" is what the dictator says it is.

IN THE UNITED STATES—

the law is written by the freely elected representatives of the people.

IN SOVIET RUSSIA—

justice depends on the dictatorial whim of one man or small group of men.

justice depends on our written law as interpreted by a jury of free citizens or by a jurist—whose decisions are always subject to review by higher judicial authority.

IN SOVIET RUSSIA—

the dictators would have no use for Shepard's Citations.

judges and lawyers consider Shepard's Citations a vitally important factor in arriving at justice in accordance with the law.

Shepard's Citations is proud to be of service to the state and federal courts, the legislative groups and departments, the law schools and all branches of the legal profession.
